Grade 2

September 8th-11th

What's happening in Grade 2?

The students have had a wonderful first few days back at school. They are settling into their new classroom routines and procedures. The class has jumped right into their "Sharing the Planet" unit of inquiry and have begun reading and writing about insects. Last week, the students enjoyed spending time in the sunshine, looking for, and investigating bugs!

Math: In Math the students are learning about odd and even numbers. In addition, the students are practicing skip counting by 2, 5, and 10 to 100.

Literacy: The students have started reviewing sight words and using these words to form sentences. As a class, we have discussed ways to add more detail to sentences. I am so proud of the writing the students have been doing!
